

Another Race

Crystal Eyes

As the moon begins to burn
I can hear a noise
From deep within myself
Like a trembling voice

Another sound roars in my head
Who is calling me
Like a storm inside my body
Please leave me be

Now the voice begins to speak
And I realize
It's someone from far away
Far beyond our skies

As he rise inside my body
With all his might
Now my life is in his control
I am his light

Another race on the earth
With souls from far
They've chosen us for their birth , realize
We are not alone , (we are not alone)
They were always there , (they were always there)
And it was only a matter of time

As the moon begins to burn
I can hear a noise
From deep within myself
Like a trembling voice

Another sound roars in my head
Who is calling me
Like a storm inside my body
Please leave me be
