

Have you forgotten the end of your dream?
Are you afraid of tomorrow?
Will you remember the song of the earth when there is no light to follow?

When the dark lord appears to embrace our mortal souls will you then be strong and believe or welcome the tears of rage to your eyes?

Father of shadows and father of time
You are the guardian of our lives
Father of shadows and father of time
Who will be guarding us when your eyes are closed?

Have you abandoned the path of the brave to roam in silence forever?
Only the burden of losses remains inside the void of your chamber

When the dark lord appears to embrace our mortal souls
will you then be strong and believe
or welcome the tears of rage to your eyes?

Father of shadows and father of time
You are the guardian of our lives
Father of shadows and father of time
Who will be guarding us when your eyes are closed?

Sometimes I hear your voice Far away, calling my name but I know
The words in the wind are my own
