

Spotlight Rebel

Crystal Eyes

Cold nights - the silence crawling down the walls
Daylight - from far away you hear them call

Don't let the sound of freedom fade
Don't let the final curtain fall

'Cause you're a spotlight rebel
King over thousand leather crowds
'Cause you're a spotlight rebel
You're born to rock. Forever loud

Hold tight - The windy road is all you know
One life is all you get. Don't let it go

Don't let them down, don't let them wait
Waste no more time, bring on the show

When the light is out you look a stranger in the eye
From a distant mirror silent crying for another life

Another town, another stage
Another crowd, another encore
The dream goes on without a break
There's no way out, you have to carry on

You're born to rock
You're born to rock
You're born to rock. Forever loud
You're born to rock
You're born to rock
You're born to rock. Forever loud
