

Strange Dimension

Crystal Eyes

In a place far away from here,
In another world - another sphere,
A new day is waiting to be born
A single roar of rage is torn

By thousands and thousands they fly
Into a misty and haunting grey sky
But when they break through the haze
Scales and fangs shine in the sun's rays

Here in this strange dimension,
In this ancient place
Dragons reign, totally supreme,
Through time and space

Crystal eyes of cold and cruel minds,
Gazing down at the weak human kind
And so they fall from the sky like rain,
Breathing fire - grim dealers of pain
