

We Are The Future

Crystal Eyes

Armies crossed the border. We know how it end
Listen to their orders. They have no demand
Missiles fills the sky, the ground is turning red
Children and women cry, they die in their beds

See them stand in line, proud young men
Soon they will feed their minds. Who cares for them?
Greed is taking over. Hate and self destruction
Tyrants rule the world. Power corruption

We have done it for ages and we always will Always fighting each other. We're in for the kill

We are the future
What shall we give to our heir?
We can't go on like this
When shall we start to care?

When there are two men left in the world
Fighting each other to rule the earth
