

Winds of the Free

Crystal Eyes

Living for the day
Life lights their way
They are all forever free
They will never die, never wonder why
they are all forever free

There will always be sun up in the sky a rainbow standing high Red horizon lights their way over the seas, from tears of the trees Here they always stay

Ride on your wings
Children of the sky Fly on forever,
on winds of the free

Beyond reality,
a world in harmony
They are all living in peace

We all will die someday I hope I'll find the way to the land of glory, and when I'll fly on the winds of the tree
