Can you separate a body from the mind and the soul?
Come together, trying to find where to go
Can you separate a body from the mind and the soul?
And celebrate a life, there's a lot of them gone
This place is alive in more ways than you know
And my love for you is stronger than rocking and roll
And this place is alive and the place you don't know
As we celebrate a life, there's a lot of them gone.

Can you separate a body from the mind and the soul?
Come together, trying to find where to go
And this place is alive and the place you don't know
As we celebrate a life, there's a lot of them gone
Yeah, there's a lot of them gone.

But you know that's how a change don't come
So look the future in the eye and be strong
And feel love inside your heart forever more
Forever more, forever more
And feel love inside your heart forever more
Forever more, forever more
And feel love inside your heart forever more
Been so long but I feel it in my heart flow
Feel it in my heart, feel it in my heart
Feel it in my heart
Been so long but I feel it in my heart.

Can you separate the truth from the things you know?
Then bring them all together to free the soul
Let's separate the truth from the things we know
And celebrate the mind and the body and soul
This place is alive in more ways than you know
And a fire is burning inside of my soul
This place is alive and we're ready to go
So let's celebrate the life, there's a lot of them gone

Can you separate the truth from the things you know?
Then bring them all together to free the soul
This place is alive and we're ready to go
So let's celebrate the life, there's a lot of them gone
Yeah, there's a lot of them gone

But you know that's how a change don't come
So look the future in the eye and be strong
And feel love inside your heart forever more
Forever more, forever more
And feel love inside your heart forever more
Feel it in my heart, feel it in my heart
Feel it in my heart

Been so long, but I feel it in my heart
Feel it in my heart, feel it in my heart
Feel it in my heart
Been so long, but I feel it in my heart
Oh, the city may have changed
And the beat may be completely different
But my love remains

Oh, my love is still the same
Oh the melody may be changed
And the beat may be completely different
But my love remains
Oh, my love is still the same
Oh, my love, oh, my love is still the same
Feel it in my heart, feel it in my heart
Feel it in my heart
Been so long, but I feel it in my heart.
