

From Luxury to Heartache

Culture Club

Luxury and heartache
Oh, yeah
Oh, luxury and heartache
Oh, yeah

I won't be coming home tomorrow
Nobody there to catch my tears
I won't be leaving tears of sorrow anymore
I played that game for so many years

If I cry, will you catch my fall
Do you want me to be the same
If I cry, will you catch my fall
Am I playing the loser's game?

From luxury to heartache
Such a long way to find that you were mourning
From luxury to heartache
Such a long way you gave me little warning

She will be there to give you children, yes she will
She will be there to make you sing, sing, sing
I won't be standing in the shadows anymore
I learned to cover up my pain

If I cry will you catch my fall
Do you want me to be the same
If I cry will you catch my fall
Am I playing the loser's game?

From luxury to heartache
Such a long way to find that you were mourning
From luxury to heartache
Such a long way you gave me little warning

Gave me love
You gave your love to me
You gave me love
But it's not enough for me

Oh, luxury
But all you give me is pain
Again and again
Luxury is sweet and so cool

If I cry will you catch my fall
Do you want me to be the same
If I cry will you catch my fall
Am I playing the loser's game?

From luxury to heartache
Such a long way to find that you were mourning
From luxury to heartache
Such a long way you gave me little warning

From luxury to heartache
Such a long way to find that you were mourning

From luxury to heartache
Such a long way you gave me, gave me no warning
