

Nobody Loves You Like I Do

Curtis Stigers

I'm choking back the anger
As I'm hanging up the phone
You just called to let me know
You're doing fine

Another civil conversation
I never raised my voice
I just bit my tongue
And swallowed my pride

But as angry as I am
I'll never let you see
'Cause there's always the chance
You'll come back to me
Nobody loves you like I do

It's a lonely life you're living
Though you never would admit
It's not easy loving
More than just one man

You've got lovers at the office
And boyfriends on the coast
And a friend
Who's just a casual thing

The grass is always greener
'Till you reach the other side
You'll search and you'll search
But in time you'll find
That nobody loves you like I do

Nobody, baby
Nobody loves you like I do

I wish you'd tell me where I went wrong
How could you walk out on me?
Now, all I have are these telephone calls
Where I never say exactly how I feel
Nobody loves you like I do

Well, there's never been a moment
Since the day you walked out
That I haven't felt
The pain of losing you

But every time you call me
I just say that I'm alright
I never let the loneliness
Shine through

But if you ever get the feeling
That you want to settle down
Just call out my name and I'll be around
Oh, nobody loves you like I do

Nobody, baby, nobody loves you like I do

Nobody, nobody loves you like I do
No, no, no, no, no, nobody
Nobody can do the the dirt like I do

Nobody, nobody, baby
No, no, no, right, no, no, nobody
Nobody loves you like I do, oh baby
Nobody, nobody

Nobody, baby
Nobody loves you, nobody loves you like I do
Nobody loves you like I do
No, no
