

Crystal

Curve

There she is in the doghouse
She sure don't know what she's done wrong
Still she lies in the doghouse
Don't think that she can carry on
She holds you down
To free your soul
The hand of God
Will make you whole
Here I am in the doghouse
I sure don't know what I've done wrong
Crystal only ever smiles
Through her eyes
Crystal only ever lies
Through her mouth
Just no one sees it
May I fight for my honor
Without the pity you show
May I beg for my dinner
When the feeling takes me so
Just saying sorry
Won't ever be enough
Just saying sorry
Won't ever be enough
You have squandered my love
Crystal only ever smiles
Through her eyes
Crystal only ever lies
Through her mouth
Just no one sees it
No one ever want
No one ever needed her
Just saying sorry won't ever be enough
