

Escape Reality

Custard

Tell me why
We don't feel the same
Tell me who
Who is the one to blame

Tell me when
We have lost the way
Just tell me something
We shan't live on to feign

Sometimes it's easy
Easy to break up
Often found the right point
The right point to give up

The time is right to unchain my soul
My heart is crying out

Is this the end we're heading for
Let's stop this game we played too long
Stand on the edge of broken dreams
Need wings to escape reality

With a heart of ice
I can't go on
Deep in my mind
I feel so cold and alone

New horizons
Is what I'm looking for
They're calling - can't you hear
Unable to conceal anymore

Review the past we had
Ain't it worth the trial
I lost my strength
Now it's your turn - it's your time

A long way to go
A massive rock to clear away
Get me back
From the horizons I might reach someday
