Heading for the Moon

Cyndi Lauper

Don't close your eyes Or I might drift away Under the night My image bends it's shape I'll be written on the wind Like in every sailoer's dreams Heading for the moon I reach out (echoes) My pulse begins to race (echoes) The crashing sounds Of fears I've never faced Let them echo off these waves With thoughts as brave as they once were Heading for the moon And, look How we write Over the white Shadows may chase from behind But just put them out of your mind, oh Heading for the moon Don't close your eyes Or I might drift away Under the night Of never ending shapes I'll be wishing off the blue I'll still wanna send my stars Heading for the moon And, look How we write Over the white Shadows may chase from behind But just put them out of your mind, oh Heading for the moon Ha ha Heading for the Moon

So don't close your eyes Heading for the Moon Over the white

Your shadows may chase from behind You might just put them out of your mind Heading for the Moon
