

Our world

D.O.A.

Is that all you want, is that all you need. Lyin' back an' takin' it from those who made you bleed. Now the pressure's on, it's gonna make you bend. What you believe things you must defend.

You must be tired of hangin' around, lettin' yourself be held down. Come on, get up get up and shout, time to wake up. It's our world, it's all we need break out of a bad dream. It's our world, it's all we need. Not just a cry from the wilderness. Let's rip away all the emptiness. By holding out taking command, you'll get it yet the future at hand.