Alone Together

Baby Ahh yeah I don't wanna be alone

A definite silence You're almost exactly what I need A definite maybe Is sure to entice my curiosity I can't help but think that this doesn't add up I'm trying to separate the facts from all the fiction We're living in a world of contradictions And if baby you're the truth then I'm lying next to you

And you're the desert sand, I'll be your water And you're the perfect plan I never thought of I don't wanna do this on my own And you shouldn't have to be alone I would rather be alone together Be alone together.

Well my heart's been racing, chasing after you You're the sweetest dream my incredible you You're the star so bright, you're eyes the lightest blue I can't help but stare at you So soft your lips, the wind blow in my hair, yeah Come closer let me whisper in your ear 'cause what will be will be every chance you give to me You will see yeah yeah

You're the desert sand, I'll be your water And you're the perfect plan I never thought of I don't wanna do this on my own And you shouldn't have to be alone I would rather be alone together Be alone together.

I always keep you safe in my arms I will guarantee that I will never break your heart I'll always put you first cause you deserve the world I wanna know you I wanna hold you baby I wanna show you

You're the desert sand, I'll be your water And you're the perfect plan I never thought of I don't wanna do this on my own And you shouldn't have to be alone I would rather be alone together Be alone together.

You shouldn't have to be alone I would rather be alone together Be alone together baby.
