Pride

Damageplan

I'm sickened
I know I've been betrayed
But I keep ignoring
The warning signs

You tell me
That I'm not beneath you
But you act above me
Knives in my spine

Now, with all the money in the world You can't buy my respect Yeah, it's just a matter of pride But that's all I've got left

I reach up
For your hand as you stand
Looking down on me but
You turn your back

I believed you Now everything that we had That I thought was sacred Has turned to black

Now, with all the money in the world You can't buy my respect Yeah, it's just a matter of pride But that's all I've got left

Pride

Now, with all the money in the world You can't buy my respect Yeah, it's just a matter of pride But that's all I've got left
