

Only Human

Damh the Bard

Isn't it crazy, isn't it cruel,
That a man can earn millions from kicking a ball,
While for other countries, we role a dice,
For a little clean water and a bowl of rice,
Politicians and empty promises help lessen our pain,
It's only human

Isn't it wonderful, isn't it right,
There's nothing as worthless as an animals life,
But it helps me feel better, when I feel ill,
I can't taste the pain in this little pill,
A thousand lives given to live just a few more years,
It's only human.

Cut down a forest for grass that won't grow,
To help melt the ice caps, to help melt the snow,
We'll watch the seas rise with nowhere to go,
It's only human.

Isn't is holy, isn't it good,
That people kill people in the name of their God,
A bomb for a Father, a bullet for a Son,
And a smile for the child that carried the gun,
Only one God can be right when all's said and done,
It's only human.
