

Heart Beats Again

Dami Im

Before you came I don't even remember what it was like
They said I already had it all but I was empty
Your face, your gaze
You were the first one to look at me the way that you do

You are the reason that my heart beats again
The reason that my eyes feel today
What meaning is life if I didn't know you were by my side
You are the home I never had before
The only one to love and adore
You're my everything, you're my everything
Ooh ooh oh

When you came my days would never be the same
When love was here, nobody could take away what I've found
Your face, our embrace
You were the first one to touch me the way that you do

You are the reason that my heart beats again
The reason that my eyes feel today
What meaning is life if I didn't know you were by my side
You are my home I never had before
The only one to love and adore
You're my everything, you're my everything
Ooh ooh oh

My friends think I'm crazy,
They don't get me
But it's OK
'Cause if they had what I have
They would be doing the same

The reason that my heart beats again
The reason that my eyes feel today
What meaning is life if I didn't know you were by my side
The home I never had before,
The only one to love and adore,
You're my everything, you're my everything
Ooh ooh oh
