

Coconut Skins

Damien Rice

You can hold her hand and show her how you cry explain to her your weakness so she understands and then roll over and die

You can brave decisions before you crumble up inside spend your time asking everyone else's permission then run away and hide

R: Or you can sit on chimneys put some fire up your ass no need to know what you're doing or waiting for but if anyone should ask

Tell them I've been licking coconut skins and we've been hanging out tell them God just dropped by to forgive our sins and relieve us our doubt

La la la la la la la...

Oh you can hold her eggs but your basket has a hole you can lie between her legs and go looking for tell her you're searching for her soul

You can wait for ages watch your compost turn to coal Time is contagious everybody's getting old

R: Or you can...

La la la la la la la...
