

Leave Me Alone

Damone

I thought I made it clear
That I don't want you here
I thought that you'd be friggin' bored by now
And all the words you know
Are "I want you to go"
So if you please just leave me here right now
Right now
Right now
Right now

Just what is it you've got
That makes you frickin' smart?
You think that you can stay and figure me out
There's nothing here to know
Just that you have to go
So get your things and leave me here right now
Right now

So whay haven't you gone?
I think there's something wrong
You haven't seemed to here me kickin' you out
You beg, you fight, you stay
When I want you away
Because you know I need you here right now
Right now
Right now
