Sugar

Dan Wilson

You've got all the sugar you'll ever need You're gonna give some of your sugar to me You've got all your demons held at bay You're gonna drive some of my demons away

Sweet, sweet sugar to me Please let me know when your kisses are free Red, red light in the wine Please let me know when you're gonna be mine

You've got all your glory to find someday Set down with me and let the time pass away When you're gone tomorrow very far You can remember me here where we are

Sweet, sweet sugar to me Please let me know when your kisses are free Red, red light in the wine Please let me know when you're gonna be mine

You've got all the sugar you'll ever need You're gonna give some of your sugar to me You've got all your demons held at bay You're gonna drive some my demons away

Sweet, sweet sugar to me Please let me know when your kisses are free
