

Will Tomorrow Ever Come

Dance Hall Crashers

Is it ever gonna come
I want to believe but I can't really see
Cause I'm afraid to even lift my head up
If I look for you are you gonna be gone
I want to jump ahead and just run, so it'll be done
I'm stuck - I can't get up
I want to, but I can't stop the chase
Want to win the race
I know - it's all a show

And you promise me
You keep telling me
Tomorrow is close but will it ever come
And you promise me
You keep telling me
Tomorrow is close but will it ever come

I never thought it'd be more than this
But you promised me and unfortunately
I bought it completely although
After I wake up i'm sure that i'll know
That today was just the rest of my life
I'm not gonna die sitting there hoping that I
Can someday come and claim the ring
It's not anything I know or want to become

And you promise me
You keep telling me
Tomorrow is close but will it ever come
And you promise me
You keep telling me
Tomorrow is close but will it ever come
Will tomorrow ever come
Will tomorrow ever come
Will tomorrow come, I just want to know
Will I be happy tomorrow
Will I be happy tomorrow
Will I be happy tomorrow

I want to know if I've got a reason
To keep hanging on when I want to let go
I want to know if you actually mean it
Or is it just part of a much bigger show
Cause I'm not gonna just lay down
While I slowly drown
I never agreed to that
And I'm not gonna hold my breath
I'd start laughing anyway

And you promise me
You keep telling me
Tomorrow is close but will it ever come
And you promise me
You keep telling me
Tomorrow is close but will it ever come
Will tomorrow ever come

Will tomorrow ever come
Will tomorrow come, I just want to know
Will I be happy tomorrow
Will I be happy tomorrow
