

Down Inside

Dangerous Toys

No solace in your solitude, no anger on your face
No will to live, no room to breathe
In all that empty space

All you want to know, down inside
All you want to fear, down inside
All you want to show, down inside
Find it all down here, down inside

The basement floor, a hidden door that leads to emptiness
Your deepest fear, your darkest hope
Leaves a lot of nothing to confess

All you want to know, down inside
All you want to fear, down inside
All you want to show, down inside
Find it all down here, down inside

When I'm inside I can see everything
When I'm inside I see outside thru the Holes in your skin
That hold you within
Touching down inside

When I'm inside
I touch the walls
And when I'm inside
I wrap my snake around your heart
