Put My Love Out The Door

Daniel Johnston

you put my love out the door put my love out the door I rode out to your house and brought you a valantine and what did you do put my love out the door put my love out the door out in the cold now every febuary my heart get sore when i remember how you put my love out the door i sat in your livingroom i told you that i really loved you you said you didnt wanna hear no more put my love out the door put my love out the door out in the cold i wrote something in the snow in front of your porch im carryin a torch put my love out the door put my love out the door put my love out the door out in the cold out in the cold out in the cold