

Thirsty Again

Danielle Peck

Tangled up in you, feeling so complete
With every single move you satisfy me
Baby just one touch, your breath upon my skin
And I can't help myself, I'm thirsty again

I just can't get enough
There's no such thing as too much
You give me all you've got to give and then
I'm thirsty again

Sometimes I catch myself staring at the sky
Looking for the clouds 'cause my lips are dry
I don't need a flood for the craving to begin
Just one drop of rain and I'm thirsty again

I just can't get enough
There's no such thing as too much
You give me all you've got to give and then
I'm thirsty again

Your love is drowning me
But I still need one more drink

I just can't get enough
There's no such thing as too much
No, I just can't get enough
There's no such thing as too much
You give me all you've got to give and then
I'm thirsty again
