City Streets

Danko Jones

I've been feeling this too long When you leave it all goes wrong The only thing I know it isn't right

Busy streets have lost their rush Buildings towered turned to dust Like everything just disappeared in the night

It's when I walk these city streets I realize the time that just went by (don't you know) Like an old friend I hardly know Now that I've been away for all this time

I was hoping this would pass But once it's here, it's here to last I wish it could just all remain the same

I'm a stranger when I'm home
'Cause all alone is all I know
That's what happens when you go astray

It's when I walk these city streets I realize the time that just went by (That just went by) Like an old friend I hardly know Now that I've been away for all this time

I know I've made my bed Sad thoughts are in my head Barely holding back the tears But when I watch the living dead Wake up and break their bread I know it's not for me, yeah-ee-yeah

It's when I walk these city streets I realize the time that just went by Don't you know Like an old friend I hardly know Now that I've been away for all this time

Oohhh oohhh oooohhh Ooooohhh oooohhh oooohhh

You're on your own, you have to hold onto what you feel's rightly you rs Don't let anyone tell you it ain't worth the time
