

Out of Time

Dark Age

I am lurking in daily routine and dreaming my life ahead deferring the goals in life there is wisdom in the eye of tomorrow so I better sleep today slowly trying to revive as suddenly the watch hour calls upon my name

I am running out of time feeling how it outgrows more and more behind no faith in me
peace out of sight
I am running out of time
seeing how weakness shows as I am fading
it's all to soon

So you learn from your mistakes I tried it all and turned away everyone seems to run collateral concessions build my world so I leave to find a start to finish up on my ending with a fistfull of tears remember me how hard I tried

Memory has been erased again
all their eyes
watching me fall
memory has been erased again
all their eyes
wanting this so long