

The Echoes Discipline

Dark Age

Promises and the loving heart failed to follow a simple request
Something calling that had fallen to pieces
It never showed why you felt so worthless

You know you will never be like me
And you know I will never be like you

Abandoned hearts have a cause to swallow
I was calling for the one who bleeds
Trapped inside all these circles of sorrow
You'll never be at one with your needs

You always wanted it so badly- be who you are
'cause we already live the dreams that we follow

Echoes returning stable, results remain the same
Your world is fucking out of reach
Your world's a million miles away
