

Alone

Dark the Suns

They told me lies:
there'll be no Eden nights and thousand stars
will sleep in emptiness

I once believed in words of human world but they can not guide me, not anymore

When life is gone and all is dead you can not see me one last time Where light will fade and time has come this darkness takes the place of life

When time has come
this light will fade away My thoughts are dark,
my dreams will die away

There is no light
in my shattered life
I leave this ground
in silence...
