

Don't Fear the Sleep

Dark the Suns

You hold my hand in the end of the time
And I hear you singing in eternal night
'Let the world become our kingdom
Where the darkness kills the light.'
The world is weeping in forever rain
And I hear you whisper don't fear the sin.
We fall into blind world in these haunted shores.

From your heart banish fear
When night entwines the shadows
Around your heart.

Don't fear the sleep
In the end of the time two souls entwined
Sleepwalkers in a nightmare forever drowned in sin
Don't fear the sleep
In the end of the time it's our kingdom gone
Sleepwalkers in a nightmare forever lost they are

I look in your eyes in the end of the time.
Cold tears fall down like the angel's cry.
Shall the night become our everdream
Where the shadows embrace the light.
The world has turned into black
And I feel your touch forever cold.
We fell into blind world and there shall we dwell
