Sleepless Angels

Dark the Suns

All is so quiet when darkness will fall In this beauty the world seems to sleep

The sleepless angels, they sing their songs The songs of sorrow, like birds in the end

In the sleepless nights Everything's forever lost Beneath the thousands stars I don't want to be alone

I'm still awake, listening the night Don't want to be, no more alone The sleepless angels, I hear them sing The songs of grief, the songs of the end
