

At Loss for Words

Dark Tranquillity

waiting for the signs to bring the first to sing
felt inbetween these fears set to unknown tunes
so tempt these fragile fiends
a grace gone dark
you'll never know
never feel
never taste the depths of your defeat

break into the hearts and minds of man never one to tell
sucking on a lie that never ends
found at loss for words

locking on to faith gone bad sweet touch of sin
not in the sleight of hand can facts be lost
never understate your case
deny our weight
there never is never was can never be a break from binding chains

break into the hearts and minds of man
sucking on a lie that never ends
