

Chariot Wheels

Darkseed

Leaves by night and day Webs with colours gray
But she still delights mirrors magic sights

When the moon was overhead
The red-crossed knight forever kneeled like the branch of stars we see She loosed the chain, down she lay
The broud stream brought her far away
I am part of all she met

Rivers drowning lands gleams untravelling hands Wandering if I might from morn to night

Cause I grew both deaf and blind Damned to win, unskilled to find Dark shores no ship's ever seen

The leaves upon her falling light ere she reached upon the tide Singing in her song she died

Hold me - to reach heaven from hell Leave me - from cold eyes farewell Hold me - in sounds royal cheer Leave me - leave my palace here

When we fall, when we fall below cold thunder's upper deep
When we fall, when we fall
her eyes so hard beneath the sea
When we fall, when we fall subdue me to the useful good
When we fall, when we fall
to drown in sadness'brotherhood
