

Left Alone

Darkseed

A shining star it sinks and spreads it's last silver rays A short glance and then escape to universal spheres
The last sinking star leaving us and with it the last remaining truth Mankind stained itself with sin Wisdom changed to cold, we hunted everything
The last fleeing star says good-bye
We're left in loneliness Stars we cannot buy We're left alone
without warmth, without light
The stars, the moon they leave tonight
God is out of sight
without heart, without soul We're left alone in fields of gold
The sun, the stars, the moon returning home to God Crying about the earth We're lost in emptiness of space, we're lost in emptiness of sense Wounds we have to close before the last wise thought perishes
