

Deep Sea Divers

Darwin Deez

You and I are deep sea divers on a task
Little bubbles rising from your scuba mask
I can see your empty eyes are not alive, but shouldn't they be?

You and I are sitting on the ocean floor
You were tired of swimming and you're so bored
Little yellow fish go past your sullen face, but shouldn't you smile once in a while?

You're bringin me down
You're bringin me down,
And now I'm blue,
Now I'm in deeper too

You're bringin me down
You're bringin me down,
And now I'm blue,
Now I'm in deeper than you

Little yellow fish are happy it's not so tough
Would everything you wish you had be good enough?
We're divers, that's why we're in our suits
They'll fire me and you, they'll hire someone new, besides

You're bringin me down
You're bringin me down,
And now I'm blue,
Now I'm unhappy too

You're bringin me down
You're bringin me down,
And now I'm blue,
Now I'm unhappy too

Of all the pretty girls, I had to choose
Of all the pretty ones, I wanted you, but now

You're bringin me down
You're bringin me down,
And now I'm blue
Now I'm unhappy too

You're bringin me down
You're bringin me down,
And now I'm blue,
Now I'm in deeper too
