Written In Stone

When we kiss that way I search for words that might explain How can a love go so deep Girl, it's in my blood It'll always be a part of me If we stay together Or if we go our separate ways I know... love will last forever

The sun may someday lose its light The moon may not shine one night Your heart will always have a home It is written in stone - written in stone

Seasons go by and minds have changed But I will never doubt why I feel this way It goes on so strong Like a solid rock Even when the moment's gone Nothing lasts forever But one thing's sure to stay the same Our love... the love is getting better

The sun may someday lose its light The moon may not shine one night I know just how the story goes It is written in stone - written in stone

True love is timeless and unconditional You don't need to read the writing on the wall I can see the future - happiness won't fade away The sun is in the sky just like it was yesterday Love will last forever

The sun may someday lose its light The moon may not shine one night Your heart will never be alone It is written in stone - written in stone

True love is timeless It will grow through smiles and sadness Won't you walk with me Our love, it will be forever I know sometimes you might not believe it

Daryl Hall

But baby I'll do my best to show you, let you see it Time might not be so bad I know we'll come out ahead Love is timeless Timeless and unconditional You don't need to read the writing on the wall It's written in stone Happiness won't fade away