

I lay down, my breathing slow
Poisonous plant running up and down my body
I breathe in the fumes of wild herbs
All alone in the night
Stars are staring, rain is drumming
Something is calling me
I want to know I have to know I want to know
All alone in the night
Something is calling me

Visions enter the gate of my eyes like an old friend
With the knife my wrist will dance awhile
And it is so good and I do not care anymore
Stepping into an unknown world
Invisible scar
All alone in the night
I want to know I have to know
All alone in the night
My breathing slow

I lay down my breathing slow
Stars are staring, rain is drumming
Something is calling me
I want to know I have to know
All alone in the night
All alone in the night
And it is so good
Something is calling me
My breathing slow
My breathing slows...
