

When the Dreams Died

Darzamat

At night I swim the dark depths so hard so much of it oceans drown feelings somewhere time is not a friend hearts got empty and don't remember I cannot fly anymore the dreamed lands remain far from here mysterious and unknowing I can understand so much I remember only one moment
and when they left only heavens wept from the clouds with rain the thoughts have fallen down the dreams have fallen down no way leads to the stars now no thought will ever enrapture I dissapear in darkness no thinking of words of freedom everything I forgot somewhere
