

There and Back Again

Daughtry

Take, take your time
Smell the roses, but steal the vines
Don't wait for the hands of time
To second guess and change your mind
Now shine.
Here's your moment to shine
Shine

Lay it down, my friend
Close your eyes, breathe in
And I'll take you there and back again
No more questions why
I'm not surprised
Why you have
Been there and back again
Replace, replace that line
That spoke to you
But showed no signs
To be alive.
So are you living or dead?
You have made a choice to hear your voice
Or hold on to what they said?
Now shine, here's your moment to shine
Shine
