

Going Going Gone

Dave Dudley

Mister auctioneer those are my things you're selling today
And just like the love they remind me of they're going going gone ne
I still see her face when I gave her that ring you're selling now Like all she promised me for all eternity it's going going gone
It hurts me so to see that old chair go how much it means to me no one understands I'd give my life and dollars for this one I wanna keep it from that strangest ends
Mister auctioneer you don't know how you're breaking my heart
Oh I know those old things mean all my hopes and dreams
Are going going gone are going going gone
