

If You've Got Love

Dave Mason

Let me take you through your sadness
Face the things you cannot meet
Let a sense of purpose fill your heart
Let your soul begin to speak

The fears that have surrounded you
The sands of time will ease
All the burdens you have carried
You know they're gonna be freed
You know they're gonna be freed

Like a dream in the night
You keep calling to my heart
We'll get by, though the tears and the sighs
Will be trying to tear us apart

If you've got love
You've got a lover
If you've got love
You've got a lover

While drifting down this road
The strangest things unfold to you
Stories you thought never true
And you know that it's only begun

This rain in my heart keeps on falling
This feeling for you still remains
I will try to be more than a friend to you
And I'll never refuse you again
And I'll never refuse you again
