

You Can't Take It When You Go

Dave Mason

Don't try to possess me I'll slip from your grasp the things that you seek have already passed in rushing to own everything that's in sight nothing is left no, not even your life

You can't take it when you go
that's something that you oughta know Love isn't counted in gold only in heart and soul

Lies can't hurt at least that's what you say but there'll be confusion as sure as night turns to day truth is a feeling you just can't deceive life's an illusion when you don't believe

You can't take it when you go
that's something that you oughta know
only in heart and soul

Over and over day after day life's precious moments are wasting away if dreams are the schemes on which future's are made dream on sweet dreamer til you reach your grave

You can't take it when you go
that's something that you oughta know
only in heart and soul
