Is this the end or the beginning
Of something beautiful?
I'm on the ledge, the same one
That I've talked so many down from before

I remember the look in your eyes
When you tell me I'm the only reason you're alive
I'm not made of steel

I read over the words that you'd say
Every message strikes a chord deep inside of me
I'm not made of steel
I'm only human

Is this the way you must feel When the candle burns At either end I start slipping who's gonna catch me now

I remember the look in your eyes
When you tell me I'm the only reason you're alive
I'm not made of steel

I read over the words that you'd say
Every message strikes a chord deep inside of me
I'm not made of steel
I'm only human

We found a way to take the pain away We found a way to take the pain away We found a way to take the pain away I found a way to take the pain away

Lost, no more Found a way Lost, no more Found a way

I am to you as you are to me

I remember the look in your eyes
When you tell me I'm the only reason you're alive
I'm not made of steel

I read over the words that you'd say
Every message strikes a chord deep inside of me
I'm not made of steel
I'm only human
