Time

David Allan Coe

We have one nanosecond In the spectrum of time Cause it's about the dead It's all in your mind

Reality, senility Human race, outer space My head's about to overload Explode, explode

Alien forces live inside my brain I must obey them or I'll go insane

Procreation, cocentration Penetration, ejaculation My head's about to overload Explode, explode Explode, explode

Cold shots on the rocks You know how it makes me feel You better see, set me free Don't give me no better deal Anagram, sonogram Looking for a thing that's real All for sale, new ghost town

Time is something you can't steal Time is something you can't steal Time is something you can't steal

This black painted sign says: "Jesus saves" Ride on the highways To an early grave

Remorse, intercourse Voices from my alien force My head's about to overload Explode, explode

Cowboys From Hell on the radio Turn it up now Just as loud as it will go

Guitar bastards, cymbal crashers Strobe light flashin', motel bashin' My head's about to overload Explode, explode Explode, explode

Cold shots on the rocks You know how it makes me feel You better see, set me free Don't give me no better deal Anagram, sonogram Looking for a thing that's real

Ultrasound, vocals down

Time is something you can't steal Time is something you can't steal Time is something you can't steal

We have one nanosecond In the spectrum of Time is something you can't steal

Time is something you can't steal Time is something you can't steal

Time is something you can't steal Time is something you can't steal

We have one nanosecond In the spectrum of time Time is something you can't steal
