

What Made You Change Your Mind

David Allan Coe

Before you go I'd like to know
What made you change your mind

The touch that used to mean so much gets colder day by day
The arms that once held me so close are pushing me away
Your kiss tells me eventually I'll see danger signs
Before you go I'd like to know
What made you change your mind
What makes you jump each time I touch my fingers to your skin
How can I fill your heart with love if you won't let me in
It seems a shame to place the blame
So if you'd be so kind
Before you go I'd like to know
What made you change your mind
What makes you jump each time I touch my fingers to your
skin
How can I fill your heart with love if you won't let me
in
It seems a shame to place the blame
So if you'd be so kind
Before you go I'd like to know
What made you change your mind
Before you go I'd like to know
What made you change your mind
