

For You

David Ball

Well, I was going down the road when she caught my eye
That little red Corvette with a for sale sign
Laid my money down and walked out the door Wondering what a pickup man wants a convertible for

For you blue eyes five foot two
For you I do the crazy things I know I really shouldn't oughta do
I've either lost touch with reality or I've found a dream come true
I'd climb the Himalayas swim a river full of gators for you

I got a fishing rod and a set of golf clubs
Just sittin' in a corner collecting dust
I'm a certified lunatic some might say
It wouldn't mean a thing to me to give them all away

For you blue eyes five foot two
I'd do the crazy things I know
I really shouldn't ought to do
I'd climb the Himalayas swim a river full
Of gators for you, hmm for you
