She's Got Medals

David Bowie

She'd walk through the door and she'd set up the drinks on the house

She played a good game of darts, and the men slapped her back And never took her out

She wore a trenchcoat khaki

Her hobnail boots were full of holes

She's got medals

Her mother called her Mary, but she changed her name to Tommy, she's a one, oh
She went and joined the army, passed the medical
Don't ask me how it's done
They sent her to the front line
Fighting for her country's name
She's got medals

She got very tired of picking up girls Cleaning her gun and shaving her curls Then the enemy dropped a bomb Survivors there were none

People say that when the moon is full and all the stars have go ne to bed

You can see her ghost but that's a lie because the naughty woman isn't dead

She deserted on the previous morning

Replaced her uniform with dresses silk and green  $% \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) +\left( 1\right) +\left$

Called herself Eileen

Came to London town

Now she's settled down

She's got medals
