Suite: Clouds, Rain

David Gates

See the clouds adrift so far below Everchanging as they come and go Makes me wonder why I'm up so high When really I am down so low

Of all the wonders I was one allowed I think that I would always choose a cloud Always brings my feelings right out loud Whether I'm ashamed or proud

On this airplane comin' home to you Sometimes I think I've flown my whole life through My whole life...through As I wing my way to you

See the clouds they're giving life below In colors that the canvas cannot show Keeping secrets no one else could know For I'm the one who told them so

Now and then I get up close to you I'd like to stay but I'm just passing through So I'll have to say goodbye Until next time I fly

Make my bed-light the light Comin' in on the midnight flight Touch the ground and soon you will be Safe inside reality

Change your mind-change your name Still the music it sounds the same

Rainfall don't bother me at all You see the world reflected in the highway Come on rainbow-I can't let you go Before I reach the end of you someway

So the next time raindrops fall

If it makes you climb the walls just think of green
