This Heaven

David Gilmour

All the pieces fall into place When we walk these fields And I reach out and touch your face This earthly heaven is enough for me

So break the bread and pour the wine I need no blessings but I'm counting mine Life is much more than money buys When I see the faith in my children's eyes

I've felt the power in a holy place Wished for comfort when in need Now I'm here in a state of grace This earthly heaven is enough for me

So break the bread and pour the wine I need no blessings but I'm counting mine Life is much more than money buys When I see the faith in my children's eyes