Made Up My Mind

Lightening strikes, silver motorbikes Roaring down the open road, wind on my skin I'm hungry to begin, my cup has overflown So let fall the rain down into these desert veins Taking back what they stole These diamonds in the mine Can afford to become fine In someone else's pigeon hole

So I made up my mind Made up my mind Gonna move on ahead Instead of lagging behind

Half past seven way up in the heaven The stars are singing in the sky Lying half dressed, your head upon my breast Listening to the ocean's lullaby Standing where we are, it seems so far From the cold light of day With the faces full of grief, And the grinding up of teeth Has been eating my belief away

So I made up my mind I made up my mind Gonna move on ahead Instead of lagging behind Instead of lagging now..

Cracks in the veneer and the light so severe Shining down the avenue try to join the throng But it's feeling all wrong what are you supposed to do Shoulder that despair take a lung of dirty air Turn to watch the sun set red And the ruins of a culture Of a sky that's filled with vultures Circling over your head

So I made up my mind I made up my mind Gonna move on ahead Instead of lagging behind Instead of lagging behind

I made up my mind....
