David Hasselhoff

A light through the wall
A pure crystal ball
A mystical call between us

Like spirits at the source
Within a silent driving force
Love that reaches everywhere
The energy from you is always there inside me too
Bound by inner visions that we share

I cut my finger and you feel all the pain
You cry and I can hear your prayer
Reading each other so close or apart
Two lovers joined at the heart
Two lovers joined at the heart

A light through the wall
A pure crystal ball
A mystical call between us

Like ships upon the tide
We ride the waves and don't collide
I am you and you are me
Asleep and on my own
I never feel that I'm alone
You're the dream illusion that I see

Holding each other at the altar of love
Worshipping souls on bended knee
Reading each other so close or apart
Two lovers joined at the heart

You know what I'm saying when I don't make a sound
I hear your thoughts and set them free
Reading each other so close or apart
Two lovers joined at the heart
Two lovers joined at the heart

A light through the wall

A light through the wall
A pure crystal ball
A mystical call between us
